THE WORLD AT HOME WITH US

Our school children have their roots here in Germany, as well as in many other cultures and languages.

This diversity brings us daily enrichment as we live and learn together.

All children, teachers, educators and parents value and respect each other.

We hold the capabilities each child brings to our community in high esteem.

We know that our children can therefore profit from one another, not only with respect to their own futures, but also with regard to acting responsibly in our world and environment.

The learning process

We, the teachers of the Hügel Elementary School, pursue the continuous aim of promoting the joy of learning and strengthening the childrens' natural sense of curiosity in the classroom.

By engaging varied learning/teaching approaches, we strive to identify and foster the individual strengths of all pupils.

Central aims of our work include: providing a learning context pertinent to how children experience their world; stimulating creativity; and encouraging cooperation and teamwork to reach common goals.

Our school profile, which includes

- bilingual instruction
- a music program
- activities related to natural science and technology, offers children further opportunities to experience new things and develop personally.

Social learning

We attach great importance to the educational goal of non-violence and mutual respect in all aspects of our dealings with one another.

Therefore, an atmosphere of trust, a shared sense of responsibility, and respect of existing rules are crucial within the school community.

In order to support pupils in the pursuit of these goals, teachers, educators and the social education worker offer assistance in

- mediation
- continuous training/strengthening of social skills
- hands-on practice and involvement in democratic processes/methods.

All-day school

The framework of an all-day school brings pupils together, gives them the opportunity to discover common interests and nurtures a sense of unity as members of one school community.

The many activities our all-day school has to offer foster individual interests and talents.

Parents

By taking an active part in school life, we parents can make visible our high esteem for the work of our children. Along with teachers, educators and the social education worker, we offer our children support and comfort in the process of personal development.
